Checking control unit for air-conditioning blower and replacing if necessary

IMPORTANT – MANDATORY VEHICLE SAFETY RECALL

~~DEALER TO CONTACT FOR MORE INFORMATION~~

Your safety as the driver and the safety of all other people is our number one priority at Porsche. This is why we are writing to you today.

We have discovered that there is a possibility that moisture could enter the control unit of the air-conditioning blower. This has the potential to cause a short circuit which could cause a thermal incident.

Since it is a possibility that short circuits may occur, until checked (and, if necessary, fixed) you should be mindful of where your vehicle is parked for the time being. As such, please park your vehicle outside and a sufficient distance away from other vehicles and buildings in order to minimise possible risk for people and for the surrounding area.

To limit the risk of this happening, the control unit must be checked by one of our skilled Porsche technicians. Depending on the result of this inspection, further repair work may be required. This work will be carried out free of charge.

Please note that this is a mandatory vehicle safety recall.

This safety recall is being monitored by the Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency (DVSA), the government agency responsible for these matters.

Please contact your preferred Porsche Centre as soon as possible to arrange to have the necessary work completed as a priority.

Replacing the fastening screws for the camshaft controller

Dear Mr. Gaudin

+ Caplich screws
fastener warning

Important - Non Coded Action

The high quality of our vehicles over their entire service life is one of the core values of the Porsche brand and contributes significantly to the fascination for our products. To ensure the reliability of our vehicles in the long term, we carry out continuous quality analyses.

During internal tests, we have discovered that due to influencing factors during assembly, the threaded connections for the camshaft controllers were strained to such an extent that the function of the camshaft controller cannot be guaranteed over the service life of the vehicle.

If the camshaft controllers fail, the Check Engine light will be activated and there will be audible engine noises and noticeable vibrations. Furthermore, the possibility of the engine cutting out while driving cannot be ruled out.

Please contact your preferred Porsche Centre as soon as possible so we can arrange to have the necessary work completed as a priority. This work will be carried out free of charge and will take approximately 7 hours.

The response rates for this Non-Coded Action is being monitored by the Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency (DVSA), the government agency responsible for these matters.

Replacing plastic bushing on selector lever

~~Don't let your car roll away.~~

IMPORTANT - VEHICLE SAFETY RECALL

The high quality of our vehicles over their entire service life is one of the core values of the Porsche brand. To ensure the reliability of our vehicles in the long term, we carry out continuous quality analyses.

During these analyses, it has been discovered that a plastic sleeve was installed on the selector lever cable which does not have the required durability and may therefore break owing to the forces exerted during engagement and disengagement of a transmission range.

In this case, the resulting play can result in an impaired connection between the selector lever and transmission. As a consequence, the transmission range selected using the selector lever may not be correctly engaged in the transmission. If this occurs in selector lever position P and the parking brake is not applied, the vehicle is not secured against rolling away.

To prevent this from happening, the plastic sleeve on the selector lever cable must be replaced with an optimised plastic sleeve.

We are currently working with the supplier on parts availability to complete this campaign and will contact you again once the parts become available. Therefore, in the meantime, to prevent inadvertent rolling away of the vehicle, we ask you to always apply the parking brake as indicated in the Driver's Manual before leaving the vehicle.
